POILUS HAVE THEATRES AND NEWSPAPERS

Sorbonne Lecturer Speaks on the Literary Life of the Front

The letters, songs, theatre and newspapers of the "poilu" at the front were the subject of a lecture by Monsieur Jean Alcide Picard, of the Sorbonne, in Taylor Hall last Friday afternoon.

"The business of killing", said M. Picard, "does not occupy all the soldier's time. He has three other occupations: eating, sleeping, and writing letters, and of these the last is the one he loves most".

As official reader of letters found on dead soldiers, M. Picard's experience was that a "poilu" writes not less than one letter a day and each at least eight pages long, never mentioning the war or his own brave part in it. Some of them are humorous, all show passionate love of country and of people at home, as do their songs, several of which M. Picard read, explaining here and there the confusing trench slang. "The essay is also very chic", he added; "they all write them".

Impromptu Acting a Favorite Occupation

Another interest beyond "la chasse des boches" in the trenches is impromptu acting. Tragedy, deeds of heroism, etc., are never shown, but the soldiers when off duty like nothing better than to give a bit of comedy or a burlesque for their comrades.

"Their newspapers, too, are largely comic", M. Picard went on to say. "Of these trench newspapers 260 now exist. They are printed on regulation presses and have a wide circulation both at the front and among civilians anxious to keep in touch with the doings of the 'poilus'. Besides this important work of insuring close contact between defenders and defended, Le Lapin a Plume and Le Canard Poilu enable army cooks to exchange valuable receipts. They print poems 'de valeur poetique variable', as well as official communications of all sorts and pen-and-ink illustrations".

SANDBY, 'CELLIST AND COMPOSER, TO PLAY

1917 Plans Concert for Endowment Fund

Herman Sandby, 'cellist and composer, who played here last year as soloist in the Philadelphia Orchestra concert, is to give a concert on January 5th in Taylor Hall. The concert has been planned by 1917 for the benefit of the Endowment Fund. Admission will be fifty cents for members of the College, one dollar for others.

Mr. Sandby's musical career began with his playing the violin at the age of five, and at seven he had his first experience with the larger instrument, the 'cello. Born at Copenhagen in 1881, he studied at Frankfurt, Germany, and from his early teens has appeared upon the concert platform all through Scandinavia, England, Germany and America.

Sandby is as well known in London as he is in Philadelphia, where, until this year, he was first 'cellist for the Philadelphia Orchestra. He is a particular favorite of the Queen Mother, Alexandra, and her sister, the Dowager Empress of Russia, both his compatriots.

Sandby's tone on the 'cello is of the richest and most mellow character, and his singing style has called forth unbounded enthusiasm and high critical praise in all the great art centres of the Old World. His settings of Scandinavian folk-songs are his best known compositions.

FATHER F. C. POWELL LEADS CHRISTMAS SERVICE

Father F. C. Powell, of the Order of St. John the Evangelist in Boston, preached to a full Chapel on Sunday night. Christmas greens and Christmas music were the setting for an appropriate Advent message.

"Belong to the future, keep your youth", said Father Powell. "Good and bad, children of the day and children of the night, live together in the same dormitories and walk the same streets, but the Advent message is to watch for the light—'For behold, your King cometh'. Come to Him with open hearts and He will open your eyes so that you will see that 'the day cometh, the darkness is already past'".

The children of the day, he said, are characterized by youth, purity, truth and love. "I know that knowledge is rather out of fashion now", he said, "helped by Billy Sunday and others, but it will come back again. 'The truth shall make you free'".

"The Luck of Roaring Camp" he cited as an example of the enlightening power of love. The little baby in the wicked mining camp still the gentleness in the

CHRISTMAS PARTY IN EACH HALL

Radnor Revives Old English Christmas Customs

Christmas parties were given in each hall on Tuesday night as farewells before vacation. Most interesting was Radnor's revival of the old English Christmas revels. Yule-log and Boar's head were brought into the dining-room with traditional songs and ceremonies by pages costumed in red and green. An innovation this year was a Christmas tree. Dancing followed the dinner at which J. Grace '17 was toast-mistress.

Merion's party began at half-past four in the afternoon with a dance managed by 1919. At dinner admission was charged, for the benefit of the Red Cross, to see stunts given by the Seniors and Juniors. 1920 provided the decorations.

Pembroke began dancing at half-past eight to the harp, violin and piano that had played at Merion in the afternoon. Cakes were sold by 1917 for the benefit of the Endowment Fund, and the Freshmen gave a stunt at dinner. The party was managed by M. Martin '19.

In Denbigh and in Rockefeller, where admission was charged for the benefit of the Belgian Relief, the program was the same—stunts at dinner and dancing afterward. M. Hodge '17 managed the party in Rockefeller, and 1919 that in Denbigh.

GERMAN PRISON CAMPS NEED TEXT-BOOKS

German Prison Camps are among the most important institutions for which the Junk Committee of the C. A. has been making collections. Interest in these camps was aroused by A. Davis '17, whose brother is working there trying to establish university courses, as there are many professor and student prisoners. For this all sorts of text-books are needed, novels and magazines.

The Community Center at Bryn Mawr and the colored schools in the South are also claiming the attention of this committee. For the Community Center reading-room sofa-cushions, pictures, books, and magazines are needed and for the schools everything.

B. M. ALUMNA HANGS SUFFRAGE BANNER AS PRESIDENT SPEAKS

"What Will You Do for Suffrage"? the Slogan

Mary Gertrude Fendall '12 was one of the six prominent members of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage who unfurled a yellow banner bearing the words, "Mr. President: What will you do for Woman Suffrage?" during President Wilson's address in the Hall of Representatives on December 5th.

The banner was unfurled over the rail of the gallery directly opposite the rostrum on which the President was standing, but was pulled down by one of the doorkeepers. Capitol policemen were prevented from arresting those responsible for the disturbance.

"At the very instant the banner was unfurled a messenger from the Congressional Union headquarters appeared suddenly at the door of the press gallery of the House and shoved into a doorkeeper's hands more than a hundred mimeographed copies of an article about the banner and the women responsible for its display".

Although the President saw the banner he made no break in the reading of his address.

COMMITTEE ON CHINESE SCHOLARSHIP FORMS PLANS

Necessary Funds Ready by June 1

The Bryn Mawr Committee on the Chinese Scholarship met on December 14th, to lay definite plans for raising the proposed endowment of $25,000. It is forming committees in the larger cities of Bryn Mawr alumnae and persons interested in the East and the education of women, and expects to raise the required amount by June 1st.

"The time is short and the sum large", said Miss Donnelly, chairman of the committee, in speaking to the "News" reporter, "but the opportunity also is large and help given to China now means twenty-five times as much as will help given twenty-five years hence.

Student to Come to B. M. Next Fall

"A sub-committee is being formed immediately in China itself to choose a student fitted to study in the United States and send her to Bryn Mawr next autumn for two years' training in the neighbourhood preparatory to entering the College.

"The committee hopes that the Christian Association will also form a sub-committee to interest itself in the scholarship, and it will be happy, through the following members, to answer any questions concerning the scholarship and its endowment:

The committee is: L. M. Donnelly, chairman; Marion Parrie Smith, treasurer; Gertrude Ely, Adeline Vepper Gibson, Marion Kelly, Eunice Morgan Schenck, Martha Gibbon Thomas.

DEMOCRACY OF COLLEGE WOMEN COLLEGE SETTLEMENT IDEAL

Miss Baldwin Explains C. S. A. Exhibit

Grassy hills covered with tents and cottages and a settlement house in which varied activities are being carried on, were represented in the College Settlement exhibit shown here on Wednesday, by realistic models of the C. S. A. summer camp and Boston Settlement House. Miss Baldwin, the organizing secretary of the Association, explained the models, pictures, posters, and samples of children's work at a tea given in Rockefeller by the Bryn Mawr chapter.

In speaking of the work and purpose of the Association in general she said, "The College Settlement Association was established in 1889 when a great wave of democracy and social work passed over the country, not primarily for charity or philanthropy, but to make stronger the democratic ideal and to arouse an interest in public affairs. It has stood for the ideals of Tolstol and St. Francis of Assisi".

When 3 per cent of the people possess 60 per cent of the wealth, when 30,000,000 people are living in indecent moral and sanitary conditions, Miss Baldwin continued, something must be done by those who have advantages to share them with those who have not. "The $265,000,000,000 of actual wealth in this country, if not hoarded up by the individual exploitation of natural resources and instruments of public utility, would mean an income of about $1700 for every family.

Democracy Needed

Young college students banding together, as in the College Settlement Association, to share their advantages, can do much against the deadening effect of the

NOTICE

The next number of the "News" will come out on January 10th.

The Tyranny of Numbers

There is a peculiarly elusive and attractive form of selfishness, sometimes called commonsense, which tries to deprive the minority of anything that the majority does not want. Water polo is the most frequent victim of these attempts. Those who can not protect themselves from the pleas of their captains, who are "sure they catch cold" and yet do not refuse to play, try to stir up public opinion so that it shall be abolished not only for themselves but for those who enjoy it, who feel it is a beneficial sport.

An athletic cup is not the most important thing in College. Let classes be beaten if necessary, but those who win and those who lose can find real sport in water polo. It is a more important thing for every one who wants a chance in athletics to have it than that the types of games played here be limited to the few that the majority or the elite wish to support. The "News", for its part, wishes to stand for democracy, variety, and individual commonsense in sport.

What's the Use?

1920, in the course of time, will probably be a Senior Class. Yet the future is always uncertain. It is therefore unsafe to predict that the popular strains of "they were the class that stopped campus night" will then have given way to the refrain, "they were the class that was voted fresh". It is impossible to assert that bath towels on the gym will then be a more significant symbol of high valor than toothbrushes in the grass. It would be a lively imagination, indeed, that could venture to conceive of the "Vandal Song", at 1920's Senior orals, as an alumnae curiosity. Such flights of fancy are not for cold print.

Let us stick to the present. How respectfully the Freshmen get off the sidewalks!

To the Alumnae:

We are taking this opportunity to appeal to the alumnae for more subscriptions to carry on the "News". The "News" has been running for two and a half years and this fall it became necessary to add a page. This certainly shows that it fills a real need, unifying College interests and keeping everyone in touch with what is going on. We feel that for these reasons it should be of especial interest to the alumnae and we ask for your co-operation. As nearly all the faculty and undergraduates already subscribe, the only way we can increase our circulation is through you.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

(The editors do not hold themselves responsible for opinions expressed in this column)
To the Editor of the "College News":

Perhaps these statistics from the records of the Health Department may interest your nameless anti-water polo correspondent. During last winter, of the 144 students who had colds, 49 were water polo players, 95 were non-water polo players, or, of the water polo players in College 38 per cent had colds, of the non-players in College 46 per cent had colds.

Furthermore it is a noticeable fact that the infirmity cases before Easter requiring excuses from academic work, diagnosed as "Tired", "Nervous", are not as a rule water polo players.

Yours truly,
Constance M. K. Applebee.

To the Editor of the "College News":

Probably the College is aware of some of the recent escapades of a group of the Class of 1920, and also of the fact that the Class of 1919 officially voted the Class of 1920 as "fresh". I should like to say that the letter written by 1919 to 1920, informing them of our action, was sent in an entirely friendly spirit, and I would especially like to acknowledge the exceedingly sportsmanlike and straightforward reply received from 1920. I sincerely hope this incident has left no hard feeling and has been to the good of all concerned.

Mary E. Tyler '19 (Pres.).

To the Editor of the "College News":

Maybe there are some people who enjoy spending their five periods of exercise swinging Indian clubs, dancing, or making a stab at fencing in the gymnasium, but, surprising as it may seem, there are others among us who enjoy "taking a hot bath with soap" and having real exercise in the pool twice a week. May we suggest that those weaklings who haven't sense enough to dry their hair by the excellent hairdryer, cover their heads before leaving the gym and avoid traditional colds.

Constance Hall '17,
Marian O'Connor '18.

SLANG INGENUOUSLY EXPRESSIVE

Enlivening as Poetry

Even "for those who are too refined to think, it must be evident that the technique of vividness in slang is the same as that in poetry", according to an article in the New Republic last week. "Of course, like all poetry that becomes established, it loses its original vigor and comes to be used automatically and with stale perception. 'Muff' and 'Hunch' are as ingeniously fitted into the mechanics of social life as any words. 'Bluff' and 'Crib' and 'Flunk' are entirely practical".

Much of slang is as vivid as Shakespeare, the article asserts, and reminds one of Falstaff. Professors should warn their pupils, not against slang, but against the deadness of habitually using expressions without discriminating as to their fitness.

A NEW OUTLET FOR DISCUSSION

Problems outside of College are to be discussed at the meetings of a group of undergraduates eager to discuss social, political and other important topics of the day. These meetings are to supply the long-felt need of some to increase their knowledge and critical power in vital issues. Any one interested may come to these meetings, which will be held every Friday night after dinner in 56 Rockefeller. The informal discussion will not be limited to set topics.

This new movement is not under any Association and is not to be definitely organized. The plans for such a meeting were formulated after a long and interested discussion with the College Settlement secretary, Miss Baldwin. Although the C. S. A. has fostered such clubs in other colleges, it has not been a stimulus in this case and is not responsible for the club.

ROSEMARY MAY BE ENDOWED

Former Pupils Plan to Purchase School

Headed by a committee called the Central Organization Committee of the Rosemary Purchase Fund, former Rosemary pupils are campaigning to raise a fund for the purchase of the School and to change it, under the Connecticut law, from a private corporation to a semi-public educational institution. The committee has secured an option to purchase the School, officially appraised at $247,198, for $150,000. $3,000 has already been collected.

Rosemary Hall, a well known boarding school for girls in Greenwich, Connecticut, is at present a private corporation with capital stock owned by the headmistresses, Miss Ruutz-Rees and Miss Lownes. Under their control it pays no dividends and turns its profits back into the improvement of the plant. It is to make permanent this type of administration, which future headmistresses might not wish to continue, that the Rosemary Purchase Fund was organized. If the change is made, the School will probably be controlled by a Board of Trustees chosen from its former pupils.

In explaining the plan to Rosemaryans the pamphlet which has been sent them says: "This is by no means a new idea in the educational world, but if the plan succeeds, Rosemary will stand among the pioneers in this form of government for girls' boarding-schools in the United States. It is obvious that a school of the proposed type, so organized that it can bring financial profit to no one, inspires a measure of confidence and secures a permanence impossible under private ownership. In the case of Rosemary, the former pupils are convinced also that, under this form of control, they can best perpetuate the ideals in pursuit of which the School has been developed, namely: Standardized college preparatory work, intercollegiate athletics, and student self-government".

Choir Feted on Annual Rounds

The Choir, led by H. Harris '17, ploughed its way through the snow last night to sing Christmas carols, according to time-honored tradition, at each house on the campus. The start was made at eight o'clock and at twenty-five minutes past ten, having stopped at the Deanery and Penygroes for refreshments, the last carol was sung under Pembroke Arch.

SNOW PREVENTS FINISH OF HOCKEY SEASON

Lower Team Points Divided Between Finalists

Third, fourth and fifth team titles were left undecided on account of the snow, but an arrangement has been made to divide up the points according to the standing of the teams when playing was stopped.

On third 1919 and 1920 had each one game, 6 to 0 and 1 to 4, and had tied once, 0 to 0, so each class gains five points. Fourth team score, showing one 3 to 3 tie between '17 and '20 and one victory for '20, 4 to 3, stands now two points for '17 and three for '20. Though the Sophomore fifth team after tying with the Freshmen twice, 0 to 0 and 1 to 1, beat them 2 to 1, the single point for the team is shared equally and each has one-half a point.

IMMENSE ALUMNÆ ORGANIZATION FOR ATHLETICS IN NEW YORK

B. M. Graduates Secretary and Treasurer

MOVIES TAKEN OF THE HOCKEY

In 1913 two Bernard graduates started the Intercollegiate Athletic Association of New York City with twenty-five members. The object was to furnish "exercise and recreation to college women under inexpensive and congenial conditions". The fall of 1916 shows an organization of 975 members, which provides every imaginable sport from basketball to bowling. Katherine Ecob, Bryn Mawr '09, is the executive secretary and Agnes Morrow '12 is the treasurer.

All fall hockey has been played at Van Cortlandt Park with moving pictures taken of the game as a grand finale. The water polo team now practicing may challenge the Bryn Mawr Varsity. Horseback riding is so popular that there are two full beginners' classes. Every Monday evening at the Thompson gymnasium, at 120th Street and Broadway, athletic classes are held with basket-ball, swimming, bowling, gym, dancing, and indoor tennis. Fencing is being planned for Wednesday evenings at the Fencers' Club, 2 West 45th Street. Skating has been arranged for at the St. Nicholas Rink.

SPORTING NEWS

Graduate basket-ball practice with Miss Neterer as captain takes place every Wednesday evening at 9.15. A fair number have come out and they plan to play the undergraduates in the spring. Miss Neterer was Mills College 1916 and played on the Varsity there against the University of California and Leland Stanford.

Water polo has begun for the graduates. Miss Lauder and Miss Kitson are managing it and 14 have signed, including M. Chase '16 and E. Brakely '16, of last year's Senior team.

Bryn Mawr alumnæ in Winnetka have formed the Winnetka Hockey Team this fall and have been practicing every Saturday. They hope to play some of the country clubs near Chicago next year and perhaps form an association such as the Philadelphia Hockey League.

K. Cauldwell '20 has been appointed Freshman swimming manager.

FOLK-SONGS AND DANCES FOUND IN AMERICA

"Lonesome Tunes" Sung by the Mountaineers of South Carolina

Summer courses in folk-dancing, with exhibitions on an outdoor stage, are given in this country by Mr. Cecil Sharpe, of the school of folk-dancing at Stratford-on-Avon. From his recent folk-lore investigations in this country he has found that the mountaineers of South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and Kentucky not only keep up old English folk music, but, contrary to the belief of Professor Kittredge, the great ballad expert, they are constantly making new songs and dances. These are divided into two classes: long, narrative ballads and songs of emotion, "lonesome tunes", and "fool songs", those of a humorous turn.

SWIMMERS PRACTISING FOR MEET

1917 and 1919 Lack Few of Last Year's Entries

Since the swimming meet comes so soon after vacation, a week and a day, much of the practicing has necessarily been done already. 1917's squad promises to be almost the same as last year, E. Faulkner only having left. R. Driver '19, who swam for speed, is the only loss of the Sophomores. 1918 will miss their fancy divers, H. Hammer and M. Allen, and will not enter the event at all. P. Helmar, K. Cauldwell, B. Weaver, K. Townsend, M. L. Mail, M. S. Cary and E. Stevens are among the candidates from 1920.

A few dark horses have come out for the first time this year, M. Rupert '18 for plunge and M. Butler '19 and E. Carna '19 for diving.

TWENTY-ONE FAIL GERMAN ORAL

Seven Left to Take Both

Out of the forty Seniors who took the second German oral Saturday, twenty-one failed. Last year, out of the same number from 1916, fifteen failed, but 1917 evens things up by its better record in French. Only seven Seniors are left who have to take both the third orals.

The statistics for the last four classes in the second German oral are:

1913-24 passed, 20 failed.

1914-25 passed, 17 failed.

1915-17 passed, 25 failed.

1916-25 passed, 15 failed.

The results this year were: Passed, 19 (47.5%), Cline, Colter, Coulter, Curry, Dixon, Emerson, Foster, Greenough, Hemmaway, E., Hoff, Jopling, Kinsey, Scattergood, Stevens, Tattersfield, Tuttle, Wilcox, Willard; failed, 21 (52.5%), Allport, Casselbury, Collins, Curtin, Diamond, Dulles, Hall, Halle, Holcombe, Johnson, Malone, McFaden, McMillan, Milne, O'Shea, Russell, Seelye, Thompson, Wildman, Worley, Zimmerman.

AS OTHERS SEE US—

THROUGH THE EYES OF "TIP"

A cartoon of the political rally in "Tip", not sparing in its expressive portrayal of faculty and student, was a special feature of the issue of "Tip" for December. The eloquent pseudo-republican, the eager faculty rooters, a debauched prohibitionist and a "News" reporter hammering on a typewriter in the "press gallery" of the gymnasium, were some of the outstanding features sketched in telling lines.

ODD CLASSES LEAD IN HOCKEY POINTS

1918 Fails to Score

GOOD NUMBER OF PLAYERS AND KEEN INTEREST SHOWN THIS YEAR

Seniors and Sophomores are in the limelight in the summary of hockey points; 1918 does not appear at all and the Freshmen show a score of only 8½ points.

Summary

First team, 1917	25	points
Second team, 1919	15	points
Third team, 1919	5	points
Third team, 1920	5	points
Fourth team, 1917	2	points
Fourth team, 1920	3	points
Fifth team, 1919	4	points
Fifth team, 1920	4	points

Totals

1917	27	points
1919	20½	points
1920	8½	points

Viewed as a whole the season has been a good one. The fact that the three fields have been in constant use has made it possible for many more people to practice daily and the improved standard of play on the lower teams bears witness to the interest and regularity of their players. This year, too, the lower teams played two out of three games for the championship instead of one. The plan of drawing up teams tentatively, early in the year, and making each person responsible for providing a sub, has worked fairly well. More people have come out since they felt themselves more essential to the team than when a long list was posted for every practice.

ICE TENNIS INSTEAD OF LAWN

segregation of the poor and industrial classes.

"The time may come", she said in conclusion, "when the colleges will demand a more democratic education. In Denmark 90 per cent of the population attend institutions of higher learning and as a result of the increased efficiency and democracy there is practically no poverty".

Miss Baldwin took dinner with the cabinet of the College Settlement Chapter. She has been visiting different colleges with the exhibit and took it to the Baldwin school on Thursday, where all the boarding schools in Bryn Mawr will see it. She said that the interest among the Bryn Mawr students this year was most encouraging.

130 XMAS STOCKINGS FILLED

"Our statistics are a little bit abaky", said M. Worch '18, chairman of Sewing and Junk Committee of the C. A., "but as far as I can be sure a record number of Christmas stockings has been filled and dolla dressed this year". 130 stockings have been returned with toys bursting from top and toe, and more are being given out. 76 dolla are dressed and ready to send away, and the clamours for more must go unheeded because the committee has spent all its money.

There was an exhibition of these stockings and dolla in the gym Monday and Tuesday.

VALUABLE CHINESE PAINTINGS ON EXHIBITION IN LIBRARY

The Chinese paintings on exhibition in the Carola Woerishoffer Room of the Library were the gift to the Department of History of Art of Mrs. Adeline Gibson, who bought them last summer in China. Some of them are valuable and all were chosen to illustrate religious and legendary themes.

Though some of the copies were probably made in the 19th century, the best of them go back to originals of the 13th and 16th centuries. The original of the painting of the three sages, for instance, with one of them flying on a stork, probably dates from the period of Sung. Again, the painting of the nymph with the blind and two attendants is characteristic of early Ming. Just as Western art is dated by painters, Eastern art is dated by periods and styles, Sung being 13th and Ming 16th century, roughly speaking.

Two other Sung copies are the pair painted on satin. They belong to a set of eight scrolls, each of which contains two groups. Each group is made up of a Lohan (sort of Chinese saint), a symbolic animal, and two attendants. In the long horizontal painting called a Makemono, of ladies in a park, each part of the strip is a whole composition in itself.

Besides the Chinese paintings there are a number of curious popular Chinese pictures that belong to the popular religion of gods and devils, and a large embroidered picture of three Chinese saints, which is quite modern.

SECOND CONFERENCE IN JANUARY

Miss Jackson Finds B. M. "Up and Coming"

Business positions and the secretary positions leading up to them will be the topics of Miss Jackson's second vocational conference here on January 12th. Miss Jackson, who is head of the Appointment Bureau of the Women's Industrial and Educational Union in Boston, said of her November visit to Bryn Mawr that she had never had as big a first meeting at any other college.

Miss Jackson thought the Bryn Mawr students whom she interviewed "very up and coming, very independent in viewpoint, and not at all shy". She was interested to find that a smaller number of them could typewrite than among other colleges she had interviewed.

ALUMNAE NOTES

Norman Hapgood, writer and former editor of "Collier's Weekly" and of "Harper's Weekly", was married on December 5th to Elizabeth Kemply Reynolds ex-'14. The wedding took place in the marriage chapel of the New York Municipal Building. Mrs. Hapgood, who is only 24 years old, is an expert linguist and writer on Russian subjects and a year ago was appointed head of the Russian Department at Columbia University. Mr. Hapgood lectured at Bryn Mawr in 1915.

Agnes Murray '11 is in charge of the extension work in the Milwaukee Hospital.

Dr. Janet Howell '10 is Associate Professor of Physics at Smith College.

Edith Edwards '01 is on the Legislature Committee of the Rhode Island Equal Suffrage Association.

Anne Emery Allison '92 (Mrs. Francis G. Allison) is president of the Providence "Plantation Club", which is a recently organized club modeled after the Business Woman's Club of Boston.

Hannab T. Carpenter '98 is working in connection with the industrial work of the Federal Hill House, a social settlement in the Italian section in Providence.

Elizabeth Atherton '14 is teaching English at the Brearley School, New York. She is also Assistant to the Literary Director of the Home Correspondence School of Springfield, Mass.

Clara C. Ware '10 has announced her engagement to Hubert Goodrich, A.B., Amherst '09, Ph.D. Columbia '16, now a member of the Wesleyan University.

1920's C. A. EXECUTIVES CHOSEN

Association Cabinet Now Complete

Eight executives of Christian Association committees were chosen last Thursday by the Freehman Class, completing their list of representatives on the Association Cabinet. E. Brace, Membership, and G. Steele, Assistant Treasurer and member of the Finance Committee, were chosen earlier in the fall. The elections were:

Bates House—M. Dent.
Bible and Mission Study—E. Davis.
Sewing and Junk—M. Chase.
Social Service—A. Harrison.
Federation—M. Hardy.
Religious Meetings—E. Wight.
Employment Bureau—H. Wortman.
Malda Claes—Z. Boynton.

KRIS KRINGLE A REALITY

A letter to Santa Claus, written in pencil on a sheet of paper torn from a Public School "copy book", and addressed to the Christian Association, has been received by N. McFadden '17, president. It runs:

"Kris Kringle wont you please bring me and me two sister a doll and me bothers want a dum me bother John wont book he is 13 years old Willie want book he is twelve herry is 10 he want a horn I am 8 I would like doll James is 6 he want dum the baby this is the first year we had her she is six months old cose she want radel her name is Rose. please dont forget my house.

Isabel Oswald".

The appended address is vague, but the case is being looked into by M. Worch '18, chairman of the Sewing and Junk Committee, which has charge of the Christmas work of the Association.

MAIDS' PARTY A GAY AFFAIR

The Maids' Christmas party, given in the gym Monday night by the Maids' Classes Committee of the C. A., with a Christmas tree, gave ample opportunity for the display of varied talent. Plantation songs by a chorus of maids from Pembroke; a duet, "At the End of a Perfect Day"; a solo, "Give Me Thy Heart", and two recitations, "The Builders" and "I Have No Mother", won much applause. M. McKenzie '18 and J. Riddion '18 danced, and Miss McKenzie gave an exhibition on the parallel bars. Z. Boynton, the Freshman executive of the committee, elected last week, appeared in an amusing stunt. After an impromptu dance ice cream and candy were served.

FAMOUS VAN DYKES REACH NEW YORK

Possessions of Earls of Denbigh

Five famous Van Dykes, valued at $1,500,000, have been purchased from the Earl of Denbigh and brought to New York, where they will be on exhibition at the galleries of Lewis and Simmons Son after New Year's. The portraits have been in the family of the Earl of Denbigh since they were painted, four of them in order of Charles I. to whom the first Earl of Denbigh was a devoted adherent. Two of the portraits are of King Charles and Queen Henrietta Maria themselves.

GEORGE EDMUND STREET, SUBJECT OF MISS KING'S NEW BOOK

"George Edmund Street, Unpublished Notes and Reprinted Papers", is the title of Professor Georgiana Goddard King's book just published by Putnam for the Hispanic Society of America. It is an essay somewhat as a preface to notes by Mr. Street on his travels.

"I have written the memorial, brief enough and all inadequate", Miss King begins her essay, "of a man who died more than thirty years ago, who lived a Tory and a High Churchman, who worked to revive Gothic Architecture in England. . . . Yet no man ever less fought a losing fight, no figure ever less evolved regret or toleration". Then follows a short biography of the great architect and an appreciation of his work with especial regard for his authoritative book on Spain, "Gothic Architecture in Spain". Of this Miss King says, "The effect of it was to teach the rest of Europe that the glory of mediæval Spain endured; that one could actually see south of the Pyrenees, . . . a great religious art surviving, . . . strong, virile, spontaneous, the expression of personal independence and manly piety. No one ever packed up fewer prejudices in his baggage, no one ever brought out more truth".

The remainder of the book is Mr. Street's own "Notes on a Tour in Central Italy" and "Notes on Some French Churches". There are many illustrations from his own pencil sketches and two photographs of him. The appendix reprints two papers of his already published, one on St. Mary's near Dartford and one on the churches of northern Germany, with explanatory foot-notes by Miss King.

Last year Miss King published two papers on Spain in the Transactions of the Archaeological Institute of America, the "Horse-shoe Arch in Spain" and "An Unknown Church and Two Others". The material for these two papers was drawn from Miss King's work in Spain two summers ago.

Et Tu Brute

A janitor putting quilts books in the class rooms, according to a recent report, asked one of the professors if he was going to give a quilt that day.

The answer of the absent minded professor, according to the report, was, "No, are you?"

CAMPUS NOTES

The Sophomore dance for the Freshmen was given last Friday evening in the gymnasium. All went in fancy dress, the Sophomores in green and white as men, and the Freshmen as their partners. A. Moore '19, as chairman of the Committee for Music, provided a three-piece orchestra. M. Scott was chairman of the refreshments and E. Adams, of the Program Committee.

"Ghosts and Souls" was the subject of Dr. Lauba's lecture at the Science Club tea last Thursday in Pembroke East.

The Lost and Found sale last Friday in the Bookshop netted about $25. The money goes to the Undergraduate Association, which pays the salaries of the persons running Lost and Found.

The wedding of Ruth Driver ex-'19 to Jack Rock will take place on New Year's Day at Montecito, California.

Marie Willard ex-'18 (Mrs. Harlan Harris Newell) has a son, born on Thanksgiving Day.

In addition to the large number of stockings filled this year, eighty bags, bright red and green, are being filled with candy to be sent to the College Settlement House at Christian Street, Philadelphia.

Dr. Rufus Jones, trustee of Bryn Mawr, has written a book on the "Inner Life", published by the Macmillan Co. The facts of science and of Biblical criticism are surveyed with discussions of Darwin, James and Bergson.

Dr. David Hilt Tennant will preside at the Joint Meeting of the American Society of Zoologists and Section F (Zoology) of the American Association for the Advancement of Science to be held December 27, 28, 29, at Columbia University. Dr. Thomas Hunt Morgan, of Columbia University, will read one on "An examination of the so-called process of contamination of genes". Dr. Morgan was formerly Professor of Biology at Bryn Mawr and is married to Lillian Sampson Morgan '91.

Movies will be given by 1919 for the benefit of the Endowment Fund on January 13th and 20th in the gymnasium. A play, a comedy, and current events will be shown on the screen. Admission is twenty-five cents.

GERMAN CLUB PLANS COMPLETE

At the first meeting of the German Club, a week ago Monday, it was decided to have regular meetings every other Tuesday afternoon. Work for the German Red Cross and Widows' Fund, sewing and knitting, with discussions of the German newspapers, is the program of the regular meetings; but at the open meetings, of which there will be several, prominent men will speak. The next regular meeting will be the Tuesday after vacation.

The requirement for membership is a conversational knowledge of German, which must be tested by Miss Ruth Perkins, reader in German at Low Buildings, or M. Hoff '17, president of the club.

men and makes them notice the beauty around them. The Babe of Bethlehem is the supreme example of God's often repeated act, putting a child in the midst of us so that we shall see the day dawning. At Christmas the whole world gathers around a babe."

"Parvum Quando Cerno Deum", from an old Christmas pastoral, which has not been sung since 1913, "Silent Night, Holy Night" and "Sleep, Holy Babe", with violin obligato played by R. Levy '17, were the anthems sung by the augmented choir of twenty-seven. Miss Wileand, the regular organist, played
